GRIEF TO BURN.

There's always some trouble to fill us with woe; in winter the weather is sloppy with snow; in summer it's hot and in spring it is wet, and the autumn's the blindest calamity yet; and so we remark, as we push through the crowd: "Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" When one's back is all itchy there's no place to scratch; when you have a cigar then you can't find a match; when you're hungry as thunder there's nothing to eat, and when you're not hungry there's the grub and repeat. You buy a new shirt, and it fits like a shroud—Oh, why should the spirit of Willie be proud? Oh, the sugar is sour and the vinegar's sweet, you've boils on your bosom and corns on your feet, and all that you swallow is poisoned with germs, described by the doctors in dog-Latin terms. And yet you are happy, you alecky chumps! You simply won't stay in the blue-moldy dumps! You simply won't wilt 'neath your troubles and fears, and splatter the earth with a cloudburst of tears! You throw up your hats and you laugh with the crowd—and that's why the spirit of mortal is proud! WALT MASON.

TAFT WINS AT GOLF.

Makes Nine Holes in 41, Which They Say Is Good.

President Taft beat Col. Bogie yesterday at the Chevy Chase golf links. The President had not been able to indulge in his favorite game for a long time on account of pressing Congressional business, but yesterday, after a hard morning's work, he stepped into a night House automobile and whirled out to Chevy Chase with Capt. Butt to get a bit of relaxation. Notwithstanding the fact that he had not played for some time, the President was in excellent form. He played but nine holes, part of them through the rain; but he made the nine in 41, which, those who ought to know say, beats Col. Bogie considerably. This evening Mr. Taft will leave for Beverly.

Later he will undoubtedly mix in the Republican Congressional campaign, but for a short time he expects to have comparative quiet.

LECTURES ON CANAL.

Public Printer Presents Stereoscopic Views of Work at Panama.

Public Printer Samuel D. Donnelly gave an interesting illustrated talk last night at the Typographical Temple, on the Panama Canal.

He dwelt especially on the work of the Culebra Cut and the massiveness of the Gatun dam project and showed some views of their condition. From Colon, south, he presented pictures of every phase of the canal workings, from Cristobal through Gatun, Gorgona, the great rock cut at Bas Obispo, Empire Culebra, Paraiso, Miraflores and Pedro Miguel, to the Pacific entrance of the canal with its lock at La Boca.

Every picture was interesting in itself, and told its own powerful story, which Mr. Donnelly supplemented with interesting narrative.

Mr. Donnelly spent about four weeks at the Isthmus last year, and the views shown were all taken by himself. The lecture took the place of the usual weekly meeting of the Central Labor Union, and was in line of a "social" night for the delegates.

Chinese Minister and Family Leave for New York.

NOT TO RETURN UNTIL AUTUMN

Marriage of Miss Bishop to Philip H. S. Cake at Hotel Normandie To-morrow Evening—Engagement of Miss Elsie Jarvis McLean to Paul Cheney Patterson Announced.

The Chinese Minister and Mrs. Chang and their picturesque family, principally of girls, left Washington yesterday morning for New York, with a big load of baggage. They will stay there for some days, to decide upon a location for the summer, and to visit around New York. They will not return until the autumn, when they will probably give up the Colton mansion, in Connecticut avenue, where they have been located during the past winter, and establish themselves in the Chinese legation planned and built by the former Minister, Dr. Wu Ting-fang. They form one of the prettiest and most picturesque groups seen in Washington for many years. The girls are all very young, and are all of the Chinese taste, and are all unconscious of the attention they attract wherever they go.

WASHINGTON VACATIONS OUTCLASS HUNTED ONES

Washington as a summer resort. How does that sound? So proposes a health bulletin. Take your vacation here in town. At resorts you must bow down to fashion.

At home you can take things easy; have all the comforts of your own home, get down to breakfast when you please, and a hundred other pleasant dreams. Give the madam a rest at the gas range during your holiday. Hire a girl temporarily, if you haven't one already, to relieve your wife; then spruce up and learn the delightful spots about Washington.

Chop as Car Fare. You can take a new one in every day during your entire vacation at the small expense of car fare—and the "put-up" lunch, which, being Bohemian, is much more enjoyable than the summer board-house fare.

If you stay at home during the hot day, you can go for a ride at night, on a boat ride, or a trip on the river or bay. It's all cheap and satisfying. Then, too, if you are in any way spitefully inclined, you can let real appreciation out of your holiday by calling around at the offices of your friends and watch-leave here this week for New York to make a series of visits before going to Rye Beach.

Col. Charles H. Heyl, U. S. A., with his sister, Miss Heyl, and his daughter, the Misses Mary and Julia, and his son, Edward R. Heyl, left yesterday for their summer place at Deer Park, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Jr., who have been traveling in Europe since their marriage, last year, are now on their way home, and have taken the Gordon Prince place at Manchester, Mass., for the season. Mrs. Munn was formerly Miss Mary Astor Paul, best inherited a large fortune. Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Jr., who, with her daughter and other sons, was also in Europe, arriving at her home about a week ago, and the family are at the summer home in Beach street. They were in Egypt last year, and made a trip up the Nile, meeting Col. Roosevelt, who was just returning from the African wilds. Many entertainments have been planned for the summer season, both for the Misses Munn and for Gurnee Munn, who is a student at Harvard, and Hector Munn, who is to enter on his college course next season.

One of the interesting weddings of the South will take place in Atlantic City this week, when Miss Louise Van Harn becomes the wife of Lieut. Royal Eason Ingersoll, U. S. N. A large gathering of relatives from both families attended the ceremony. The young people left immediately afterward for Norfolk and Richmond, where they will spend their honeymoon, and on their return will make their home at 701 North Carolina avenue, where they will be pleased to see their friends after July 10.

Miss Katherine Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Wynkoop, was married to William H. McDonald, of Washington, last Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents near Round Hill, Va. Rev. Mr. Parker officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the young couple were present. The ing them stuff handkerchiefs inside their collars.

You can plague them with that mild "is it hot enough for you?" and outline in all its details your delightful trip to the beach of the day before, and supply equally complete and excruciating details of your intended trip on the morrow.

From a sanitary point of view your city holds out good water to you; with the paternal District government looking after the milk supply, mosquito breeding, and so on. At the resort you run the risk of polluted water, malarial-breeding places, and no ice.

A Difference at Home. At the resort you must "top things off" with a frequent use of the taxi. At home you're ashamed to sport around too often in a hired machine, so you compromise (and save) on taking the street cars.

But if you go away, patronize the clean, wholesome, and safe resort or farmhouse, where you are sure you will leave with an entirely satisfied feeling. And don't swim in dirty water. And above all, be sure not to forget to have the telephone disconnected; to have the gas turned off, and to close up the house properly.

And don't forget the baby. The baby was gown in a white-embroidered robe. A wedding breakfast was served, after which the young couple came to this city to reside at 207 F street northwest, where they will be pleased to see their friends after July 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stead will close their seventeenth street residence in a day or two and with their daughter, Miss Clara Stead, will return to their country home near Relay, Md.

Mr. Aulick Palmer and Miss Palmer will go to Bar Harbor this week to spend the season. They will be joined by Mr. Palmer later.

Mrs. Thomas M. Bayne will close her residence in Massachusetts avenue this week and leave for Fort Hope to spend the summer.

Representative and Mrs. D. S. Alexander will close their apartment in the Con-ley this week and go to their home in Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Rutherford is visiting in Gaithersburg, Md. before going to Atlantic City for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. Alexander Williams, wife of Capt. Williams, Quartermaster Department, U. S. A., who has been ill in the hospital for the last month, has returned to her home in Columbia.

The marriage is announced of Miss Katherine McNally, of Egmont Bay, Prince Edward Island, and Dr. George W. Alexander, of Orono, Me., and formerly of Washington. The ceremony took place in St. James' Church, Egmont Bay, June 22. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, trimmed in Irish point lace, and was given in marriage by her cousin, James McNally. Her only ornament was a diamond brooch, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Loretta Smith, of Washington, was her maid of honor, and wore a lingerie dress over pink silk, with a large hat to match. Miss Elizabeth M. Alexander, of Newport, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a gown of white lace, with a black picture hat with white plumes. Both carried large bouquets of fern tied with white ribbon. The club probably will open in October with a round table discussion along the lines of what the club can accomplish.

HAMLINE IN THE LEAD

Joint Sunday School Meet a Big Success.

ENJOY FUN AT RIVER VIEW

Bethany Presbyterian Chapel a Close Rival for First Honors—Anacostia Church Wins Third Place in Contests—Peanut Race for the Women Furnishes Amusement.

Hamline M. E. Church Sunday school made highest score in the joint Sunday school athletic meet at River View yesterday, capturing seven first prizes, two seconds, and five thirds.

Bethany Presbyterian Chapel, with four first prizes, five seconds, and five thirds, was a close rival. The school of Anacostia M. E. Church pressed Bethany, winning two first prizes, seven seconds, and five thirds. Foundry M. E. Church captured two blue ribbons, three red, and one white; Wesley M. E., two blue and two red; Brightwood M. E., two red and one white; and Douglas M. E., two blue and one white.

The meet was wholly informal, and furnished lots of fun for the 1,500 Sunday school scholars, relatives and friends on the grounds. An old-fashioned needle-threading contest, the contestants and spectators a little more fun than any other number on the programme. It was so popular that several hours were required to accommodate the contestants and spectators, and was participated in by grandmothers and grandchildren.

Races Fun Producers.

The sack races and three-legged races for men and boys also were great fun producers, many a staid Sunday school worker losing his dignity as he was bowled over in the melees.

In the sack race for boys, Lester Barrett, of Anacostia, surprised everybody by skipping over the ground apparently unhampered by the big bag in which he was half buried. He walked away with the race.

In the 100-yard and 50-yard dashes for men and boys and women and girls no attempt was made to make or break records. They furnished a great deal of excitement by reason of the large number of contestants, spread out in a long line. Close finishes were the rule in every race.

A peanut race for women furnished much amusement. The young ladies were each given a toothpick and told to push a peanut ten yards. Some of them quickly lost their peanuts, while others struggled, scratched and scraped in their anxiety to be first across the line. A few went through the performance as if it were an every day occurrence.

Souvenir ribbon badges were given the winners of first, second, and third place in each event.

Events and Prize Winners.

The events and prize winners follow: 100-yard dash for boys fifteen years and over—First, Irving Coggins, Hamline; second, Ross Clegg, Bethany; third, Edna Hamline. 50-yard dash for boys fifteen years and under—First, Ousemer, Hamline; second, Frank Stoll, Brightwood; third, Homer Clayborne, Hamline. 50-yard dash for boys fourteen years and under—First, Hamline; second, Charles Walton, Anacostia; third, Little boys—First, Victor Booth, Foundry; second, Stewart Smith, Bethany; third, James Ragnette, Bethany.
